

Village walk 29th September 2013

Village walk. There had to be a dip in numbers at some time and on this occasion only fourteen persons supported the twenty-eighth village walk. This included a young mother who carried her baby son in a papoose the entire afternoon. In excellent dry, autumn weather the group walked the popular John Brunning Way via the Roman River from Fingringhoe Church to Rowhedge where the walkers visited the art exhibition in St Lawrence church. The group returned to Abberton & Langenhoe village hall for a social tea and for cementing new friendships made during the afternoon. Tea was organised by Margaret Clouter and the walk was led by Gordon Davis. It was felt that the reduction in numbers was because many of the regulars were either on a late holiday or catching up on seasonal jobs.
