

Possible Bogus Phone Call – 3rd November 2014

Received from a resident of Great Horkesley.

At 11.24 this morning I received a call from 0161 662 9025. The male caller announced he was speaking on behalf of the police and asked for the owner of the property. He then asked if I had considered various security measures. Whether he was referring to my house, computer or bank I don't know because at this point I cut the call off. I am certain this was a bogus call, if the police were going to call they would already be aware of whom they were calling. Incidentally, the telephone code 0161 is a Manchester area code!
